CONDITIONS IN FRANCE BEFORE THE GUERIN FAMILY EMIGRATED TO AMERICA

Louis XIV succeeded his father to the throne of France in 1643 when he was five years of age, his mother becoming regent, with Mazarin as her minister. In 1660 Louis married Maria Theresa. Little was expected of the king as his education had been neglected and his conduct was dissolute; however with the help of his ministers he helped to restore prosperity. He later fell under the control of Madam de Maintenon who led him to severe measures against the Protestants. By the revocation of the edict of Nantes more than half a million of the best citizens of France left it, carrying their skill and industry to other lands.

The Guerin (Guerrant) refugees sailed from St. Nazaire, France on the ship Nassau landing in the York River, Virginia in 1700. Daniel Sr., his wife Marie L'Orange and two sons Pierre and Daniel Jr., settled at Mannakinton on the James River not far from Richmond. They were of the nobility of France as the crown on the arm indicates. Their ancient lands were in the Province of Auvergne, France.

EXTRACT FROM PHAMPHLET

Daniel Guerin, the Huguenot of the Guerin family established at Champaign, Isle of France, and Auvergne, sailed from St.
Nazaire, France on the ship Nassau--after 1690 and settled in Mannakinton, Virginia where ten thousand acres of land had been given to the French Protestants by King Charles II of England, in consideration of the fact that his grandfather Henry IV of France (Henry of Navarre) had protected the Protestants of France.

Daniel Guerin Sr. of the nobility of France, came with his wife Marie L'Orange and their two sons Daniel and Pierre to Mannakinton, Virginia about 1700. Their son Daniel Jr. married Frances L'Orange, daughter of Jean Velos L'Orange and his wife Francois also Huguenot emigrants who came with one child to Virginia on the ship Nassau. This Jean Velos was the son of Sir Velos L'Orange of La Rochelle, France, whose widow and son Jean Velos fled from France to England in 1682 and came from there to Virginia.

The Guerins are of the ancient and grand nobility of France--one of them being among the Chevaliers who defended Mont Saint Michel against the English in 1427.

This family settled in Anjou France (1520-1550). Its decendants have continuously occupied the ancient Chateaux, fief and lordships of Grand Lannay, whose rule extended over three parishes--Braine, Corni, and Anderd.

Charles Guerrant (5th child of Peter Guerrant and his wife Mary Perrean) married Polly Spencer July 13, 1806. She was the daughter of Moses Spencer who married on January 6, 1786, Judith Ayres. These dates are from Moses Spencer's Bible. He died in 1835 or 1836. Date of his birth not known to me as dates of Judith's birth or death. It is said that Moses' Spencer's father came from England and lived and died on his farm four miles southwest of Birmingham Court House, Va. The county tax lists show that Moses Spencer had 200 acres of land in 1782 and 1,000 acres in 1805.

CHARLES GUERRANT, DECENDANT OF PETER GUERRANT

by Opal Samuel

My great-great grandfather, Charles Guerrant, son of Peter Guerrant and Mary Perrean Guerrant, met Miss Polly Spencer, an only daughter of a wealthy plantation owner in Kentucky. At the time Polly was attending a girl's boarding school near Richmond, Virginia. The two were married and lived in Virginia on a plantation given them by Charles's Father. After a few years, in 1820, the family moved to Kentucky to live on a larger plantation given them by Mr. Spencer at the time of their marriage. A number of years later the Charles Guerrant family moved to Winchester, Tenn.

Charles Guerrant was the father of two children when he enlisted for service in the war of 1812. He was a private in Capt. William Jones Company, 5th Regiment, Virginia Militia, commanded by Licut. Col. Edward Jones in the service at Norfolk. For his services he was given land in Tenn.

Extracts from a letter written by Dr. Henry Ellis, (Grand-son of Peter Guerrant), and father of Dr. Edward O. Guerrant) in 1784.

"My grand-father, Peter Guerrant married a Miss Perrean. She died before my recollection, but I was often with my grand-father, whom I remember as a tall and rather slender old man, with dark hair and eyes. His sons were John, Peter, Stephen, Charles, Daniel and William and daughters, Jane, Martha, Mary and Magdalen (twins).

Uncle John Guerrant had a number of sons and daughters, some of whom probably live now in Buckingham county, Virginia. John's wife was a Miss Anderson. Peter Guerrant, whom I knew, lived in Franklin county, Virginia and had several sons and daughters. You are acquainted with his grandson, Col. William Gibson Guerrant of Pilot Mt. near Christiansburg, Virginia. William is the son of John Guerrant of Franklin county who was the oldest son of Uncle Peter. John was a very handsome man, highly esteemed, very wealthy, and kind and benovolent to the poor.

--O--

Uncle Stephen had a large family of sons and daughters. Peter Guerrant, whom you knew in Bath count, Ky. was one of his sons. This Peter moved to Missouri afterwards, many years ago and died there.

--O--

Uncle Charles moved to Ky. I think in 1820 and lived there a few years, then went further west--to Winchester, Tenn. I knew little or nothing of his children.

--O--

Uncle Daniel had a large family of children. I am not sure that any of them live in Buckingham Co. Va. but I believe his son, Maurice, is in Richmond. His son George lived in Memphis, Tenn, a number of years ago. I know nothing of him since the war.

My father, William Guerrant, died and left two young children, myself and sister Martha younger than myself. She died in her sixteenth year. I believe at her Uncle Daniel Guerrant's home in Buckingham Co. Va. Aunt Betsy took us to rear after our parents died.

--O--

I knew Aunts Magdalen and Mary, who were twins, Aunt Magdalen married Thomas Moseley, the father of Squire Joseph Bondurants wife of Montgomery Co. Ky. and Thomas Moseley Jr. She left a large family. Judge Thomas Moseley and Magdalen, his wife, lived in the large stone house near Ewington, Montgomery County Ky.

--O--

Aunt Mary was the wife of Chosley Glover. I feel gratified in saying that all were of the best character. Judge Charles Glover, son of Chosley, was judge of Bath County--a fine gentleman and scholar.

--O--

Aunt Jane married James Anderson of Buckingham County Virginia and moved to Kentucky at an early period. The old gentleman and his wife, Aunt Jane, and most of their children moved to Illinois about 1830.

--O--

Aunt Martha married William Flood of Buckingham county. In 1820, then a widow, she moved to Kentucky and settled near Mt. Sterling in Montgomery County. She had a large family of children when she came to Kentucky.

--O--

Uncle Daniel's family (Great-Uncle Daniel) moved to southern Virginia and North Carolina many years ago. The McKinneys of whom you spoke, Governor Phillip McKinney of Virginia was descended from Martha, a daughter of Daniel Guerrant--who was a brother of General John Guerrant."

HENRIETTA JUDITH GUERRANT ROBERTS

Henrietta Judith Guerrant was a daughter of Charles Guerrant, grand-daughter of Pierre Guerin II, great-grand-daughter of Pierre Guerin and great-great-grand-daughter of Daniel Guerin who came across on the Nassau from France with his wife and two children. Daniel settled at Mannakington on the James River in 1700.

Daniel's great-grandson, Charles, married Polly Spencer and moved to Franklin County, Tennessee. They reared ten children to maturity, Virginia, Emmie Elizabeth, Henrietta Judith, Hail Christopher, Malinda Jane Smith, Daniel Boone Anderson, Benjamin Franklin, Catherine Pocohontas, Charles Frances Amanda, and Maggie Mosely.

Henrietta Judith, third daughter of Charles and Polly Guerrant was born September 13, 1814. She married Allen Roberts of Winchester, Tennessee who was born May 17, 1810. After their marriage they decided to go to the much talked of Spanish Territory, Texas. They were accompanied by Judith's younger brother, Daniel Boone Guerrant. The trio came by boat to Galveston and moved into the interior settling in Montgomery County eleven miles from the present town of Huntsville in the year 1837.

Anson Jones, President of the Republic of Texas granted Allen and Judith Roberts 640 acres of land adjoining the Ben Robinson and Daniel Boone Guerrant surveys on December 31, 1844. On this tract of land they cleared away the forest and build a three room log house. To them were born six children, Jim, George, Tom, John, Lizzie and Sallie. Their decision to come to Texas resulted in the widow of Charles Guerrant following them after her husband's death. Charles willed his property to Polly and the three remaining single daughters, Catherine P. Martha Eliza, Charles Frances Amanda, and Maggie Mosely. Polly and her daughters came to Walker County, Texas after the Civil War and left her property in the hands of a lawyer there. Mack Tolliver, husband of Malinda Jane would go back to Tennessee to see about the estate for his mother-in-law. In 1868, at the age of 82, Polly died and was buried in the Ebenezer Cemetery twelve miles from Huntsville.

Thirteen years after Henrietta Judith came to Texas she passed away. November 5, 1879 Allen Roberts died. Their decendants are in Walker County and Texas

DANIEL BOONE GUERRANT

In 1700 the Huguenot refugees, Daniel Guerin and his wife Marie L'Orange , with their two sons, Pierre and Daniel, emigrated from St. Nazzaire, France, to Virginia, on the ship Nassau. Their former estate was in the Province of Auvergne, France. They settled at Mannakinton, on the James River, not far from Richmond.

Pierre Guerrant married Magdalen Trabue, and to this union seven children were born. The second oldest son, Pierre II, born 1737, married Mary Perrean and it was to this union that my great grandfather Charles Guerrant, was born. Charles Guerrant married ~~Polly~~ Spencer. They were the parents of Daniel Boone Anderson Guerrant.

During the War of 1812, Charles Guerrant served as a private in Capt. William Jones' Company, 5th Regiment, Virginia Militia, at Norfolk.

My great grandfather and grandmother lived in Kentucky a few years, then moved to Winchester, Franklin County Tennessee. While living in Kentucky, June 23, 1821, Daniel Boone Guerrant . 1821 ? was born.

In 1837, at the age of seventeen, Daniel left his father's home in Tennessee with his elderst sister, Henrietta Judith, and her husband, Allen Roberts. They came by boat to Galveston. They sought Allen's Three half brothers, Hezekiah, Billy and Dick Farris who had already selected lands and built homes in the country which they had just recently helped to liberate. Allen and Daniel were fortunate in securing grants of land near the Farris homes. Daniel being a single man, received 320 acres of land from the government, located on the west bank of San Jacinto River, (about eleven miles from town) in what is now Walker County.

March 9, 1848, Daniel Guerrant married Eady Elmyra Bankhead. He was a man of strong character and stood firm in his own convictions. He respected the opinions of others but never wavered by influence from his own belief. Kindness, firmness and honesty were his major traits. He was quiet and unassuming in his manner. Though rather low of stature, he was erect and strong. His friends loved and respected him and he was "Uncle Dan Guerrant" to the entire community. His ten children called him "Pappy" and seemed to idolize him, although they were inclined to follow their mother's teaching and training more.

Grandfather Guerrant was a great lover of fine horses and dogs. In his young manhood days he raced horses on a big scale. He trained and cared for "Methodist Bull" owned by John McAdams, his brother-in-law. This horse never lost a race even on several occasions when he was carried to other states. Charles Richard, eldest son of Daniel, then four years of age was strapped to the horse and rode in the race. He later became one of the most earnest and influential Baptist preachers.

Daniel Guerrant's religion was typical of his firm character. He was glad for his family to attend church services but he did not always go with them. He was a great Bible student but never united with any church and contended that he could not find one that was just as Christ meant it to be. He often urged his son, Charles Richard, a Baptist minister, to baptize him like the Eunuch was baptized by Philip. He stood up in church a short time before he died and said he was fully prepared for the future but could not accept the doctrine of the Baptist Church. His son was also firm in his belief and would not administer baptism. By his firmness and nobility of character, his wife's devotion and saintly influence, they reared their ten children, all of whom lived and had large families in Walker and Grimes counties. Two of the boys became Baptist ministers. He believed in education and his children were given every advantage the schools of that day offered.

During the Civil War Daniel Guerrant and his eldest son, Charles Richard, who was ~~twelve~~ years of age, operated a supply train from Shreveport, La. to San Antonio, Texas.

Grandfather Guerrant was preceeded in death by Grandmother about nine years. He lived with his daughter, Mrs. Julia Thomason, for several years. The last few years of his life was spent with his eldest daughter, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Young. He died April 9, 1903, and was buried beside his wife in the McAdams Comotery.

There are 243 descendants of which 197 are living in Texas today. Members of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas who receive their eligibility from Daniel Boone Guerrant, besides myself are:

Mrs. Lillah Guerrant Brooks (Real Daughter), Mrs. Elizabeth Fraser Allen, Mrs. Annavieve Fraser Barrett, Mrs. Odell Weatherly Hall, Mrs. Oneta McAdams McKay, Mrs. Opal McAdams Samuel.

LADY ELMIRA BANKHEAD (GUERRANT)

by Opal McAdams Samuel, December, 1935

Sarah Leah Nobles was born in Laurens County South Carolina, September 11, 1807. Her parents emigrated from England to this country during the eighteenth century. January 1, 1827 she married Richard Bankhead of Tennessee to which union five children were born; William Newton, James Marion, Mary Elizabeth, Lady Elmira and Mary Frances.

In 1834 Richard Bankhead and his family came to Texas in a wagon train with William Winters, Ben Robinson and John Spillers and their families. Along with this company of pioneers came George A. Lamb who was left an orphan in early boyhood and made his home with the older Bankhead family. He was born October 3, 1814 so was a strong young man at the time of the Texas Conquest. These families traveled for months in covered wagons drawn by oxen, finally reaching this new country that was pictured to them as the Spanish Coast. This wagon train was the first to cross Bedias Creek. The men had to stand in water up to their waists and dig down the banks so they could cross with their wagons. The Bankheads and George A. Lamb and the Spillers settled on land which is now the western part of Walker County.

Richard Bankhead became ill from exposure in crossing the Bedias and six weeks after locating in Texas he died, January 17, 1835, leaving his widow with five small children. When Richard realized that he would never recover from his illness he called his friend, Lamb to his bedside and asked him to protect his wife and children. Richard was buried on the land where they settled as there were no cemeteries in that day. In later years, Sarah had markers placed at the grave of her husband and two sons, William, who died October 15, 1835 and James, who died November 18, 1835.

June 27, 1835, George A. Lamb and Sarah Bankhead were married in Montgomery, Texas. Eight months later, Lamb left to participate in the Battle of San Jacinto. He served his state in the second regiment of Texas volunteers in Houston's Army. He was 2nd Lieutenant in Company D under Captain William Ware. Lamb was killed in battle April 21, 1836 and was buried on the battle grounds. A few months after the death of Lieutenant Lamb, a baby girl was born to Mrs. Lamb. The child was named Susan.

Life in Texas for Sarah had been filled with suffering, sacrifice and hardships. She had lost two husbands and two sons in two years and now had the care of four little girls. The children were old for their years and bore much responsibility. Many times Sarah and the little girls hid themselves in the cane brakes and palmetoes of San Jacinto bottom in order to escape the ravages of the Indians.

The children were left alone the following fall while Sarah went each day to a neighbors to card wool and make clothing to keep them warm. She cautioned the little girls to let the Indians have anything they wanted if they came while she was away. One day the Indians came and raided the place, taking all the meat they had. As they were leaving, Eady Elmira, who was four years of age, put a handful of curd in an Indian's bag. He saw her and patted her head then took out a ham and left it for them.

Before the next winter had come, Sarah Lamb married Jonathan McGary. To this union were born five children. Mary Elizabeth Bankhead, who was 13 years of age, married Green Spillers (John) and took her two sisters, Eady Elmira and Mary Frances, to live with her.

Now for the first time, Eady Elmira, began to know and appreciate a peaceful life. She was unselfish, lovable, and kind. At fifteen years of age, she was beautiful and quite a match for Daniel Boone Guerrant, an eligible bachelor, eleven years her senior. March 9, 1848 Dan Guerrant and Eady Elmira Guerrant were married. Dan took his bride to his own land, a grant of 320 acres from the government located on the west bank of the San Jacinto River (about eleven miles from town) in what is now Walker County. He built a large house of hand-hewn logs. To this union were born eleven children; Charles Richard, Mary Elizabeth, Sarah Loutissa, John William, Semantha Frances, Judith, Daniel Lee, Julia, Maggie and Lillah. Here Dan and Eady lived their entire life, rearing their family and serving their community at every opportunity. The house is in use today and is jointly owned by the Guerrant descendants. Eady Elmira died March 29, 1896 and was buried in the McAdams Cemetery.

Data taken from court records in Walker County.

During the February term of court 1838 Jonathan and Sarah McGary asked for an administrator to properties for the Bankhead heirs.

March 1, 1838 the Bankhead heirs were granted one league and labor of land. (This land was sold to John McAdams October 1, 1856 for $815.00.)

My grandfather was a great lover ^{of} ~~ed~~ dogs and horses. I remember once when we were little girls discussing our "beaus" he said, "Children, always remember that there is as much in the stock of people as there is in the stock of horses." I think my boys have inherited this love for horses for they are playing pollo today in this freezing weather."

Mrs. J. W. McAdams
Huntsville, Texas

Dear Mrs. McAdams:

Your letter came several days ago. We were very glad, as always, to hear from you and the family. Would have answered sooner but have been rushed with work. Let me assure you that we still remember you, Brother McAdams, the children and all the good friends we know over there. Some of the pleasantest memories of our lives are associated with the old Harmony Church and community.

I am sending you copy of the obituary that I wrote of Brother C. R. Guerrant shortly after his death and had published in the Baptist Progress, official organ of the Baptist Missionary Association with which he labored until the day of his death. In it I gave about all I know of his life as he gave it to me during his life. I do not recall how long he served Martins Prairie Church. You might find out by writing E. R. Conley, Iola, Texas. I believe Brother Conley is Church Clerk there.

Brother Guerrant was my friend and I shall cherish his memory as long as life lasts. It was a great pleasure to me to be his pastor toward the close of his life and to be closely associated with him during that time.

Again thanking you for the letter and the kind things you said and assuring you of our love and appreciation of all of you. Mrs. Davis will write so I close.

Give my love and best wishes to Brother McAdams and the children. Brother McAdams was a friend "indeed" once, as were all of you. Regret to hear of the old church house being torn away. Such is the way of life though. Our church here is named Harmony. I like the name.

Sincerely,

R. N. Davis

By vote of the body a page was ordered set aside in memory of and for special mention of Brother C. R. Guerrant. Said page to contain the following paragraphs, contributed by Brother R. N. Davis and approved by the body:

"In memory of our beloved brother, Rev. C. R. Guerrant, among those whom God in his wise providence has seen fit to call Home since our last annual meeting, and of whom we feel constrained to make special mention, is our beloved Brother, Rev. C. R. Guerrant, who labored long and faithful among us. To him, as to no other man, we owe gratitude for untiring efforts and labors, in maintaining those principles for which Jesus and His Holy Apostles suffered and died. Brother Guerrant was an earnest student of the Holy Bible, which he expounded with power, and to a great degree of success. He was humble, kind, and considerate of his brethren, and above all, deeply concerned about his Lord's Cause. Truly it may be said, 'A father in Isreal has fallen'. We recommend that we strive to emulate his worthy example, humility, faith and devotion to our Lord's Kingdom, and that we say from the heart 'The Lord gives and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord.'"

Ordered by the Navasota River Association in annual session.

Eld. C. R. Guerrant Has Gone Home

In the purpose and providence of God. Daniel Boone Guerrant of Tenn. found it in his heart to come west. Landing in Texas in Walker County, seven miles west of Huntsville, where on February 9, 1849 C. R. Guerrant, the subject of this sketch was born. Probably it did not occur to the father and mother of this child that he, like Moses, was a proper child and destined to wield a mightier influence in the building and futureance of the cause of Christ than any man who has ever lived in this section. Then it may be that the godly mother breathed a silent prayer that God would use him for some good and noble purpose, if so, God abundantly answered her prayer.

On August 8, 1856, he was born of the Spirit. That was a bright living experience all through his life. He knew God had saved him; however he did not unite with the church for several years later. The second Sunday in August 1867, he presented himself for membership to the Ebenezer Church, giving as his experience of grace that he had on August 8, 1856. He was received and baptized by Eld. J. A. Komble. In all these eleven years he had hope in Christ.

In 1875 he moved his membership to the Mount Zion Church where in 1877 the church elected him to the deaconship, in which office he served faithfully until October, 1884 when the church, being deeply impressed with his ministerial gifts invited Elds. Jeff D. Ray and Jim Isabel to act as the Presbytery. After examination by the presbytery he was ordained to the full work of the gospel ministry. Eld. Jeff D. Ray is still living and teaching in the seminary at Fort Worth. We are without information relative to Eld. Isabel. That he was faithful to the charge given that day is abundantly proven by his long and eventful career.

No man has ever lived in this section who labored more untiringly and has more monument to his labors in churches, people whom he baptized, married and in many other ways helped, than Bro. Guerrant. He served the church that ordained him nine years. In November 1892, he moved with his family to Bodias. He had a large family of children and not having school advantages where he lived he moved in order to give them the best he could in school opportunities. Upon moving to Bodias he placed his church membership there where it stayed until his death. He also served the church of Bodias for thirty years as pastor, doing a fine work. He served a large number of churches in the association as pastor, with credit to his Lord and His cause.

A synopsis of his work follows, First text, "What is truth?" He baptized approximately 900, married hundreds, and organized seven churches.

October 17, 1871 at Bryan, Texas, he married Miss Matilda Neely, who is still living. To this union ten children were born, six of whom are living: Mrs. H. H. Barron, Lamesa, Texas., Joe Guerrant of Galveston, Texas, Mrs. S. C. Albertson, Lamesa, Texas, Miss Vennie Guerrant of Houston, Texas, Roy Guerrant and Mrs. R. E. Weathersbee of Bodias.

In and through all the troubles of Texas Baptists Twenty-five years ago Brother Guerrant stood with the old line Baptists. He was as firm in his convictions as a rock. He loved and believed in the doctrines of grace. No truer friend can be found to our Association than Brother Guerrant. He was a father to many young preachers always giving encouragement.

The writer at his request made some years before his death, preached the funeral sermon. Among those who spoke of his life and labors were J. G. Davis, a life long friend and neighbor, Eld. U. C. Bracowell, Brethren John Sollock, Lee Gilpin and W. J. Long, each of them having known and served with him for many years. He will be missed as few others.

God grant to the grief stricken family and the host of friends His comforting grace in this sad hour.

by Opal McAdams Samuel

Charter member President Houston Chapter, Huntsville

Tabitha Ann Guerrant Davis, a Real Daughter and charter member of the President Houston Chapter, Huntsville, Texas, died in 1944 at her home in Bedias, Texas. She is survived by five children, Maggie Lou, Valettie Velms, Georgia, David, and Robert Oland.

Peter Guerrant, great grandfather of Tabitha Ann, served his country during the Revolutionary War by furnishing supplies for the armies as shown on the records for Buckingham County the eighth day of April 1782; State Liberty Richmond, Virginia.

Charles Guerrant, grandfather of Tabitha Ann served in the War of 1812 as a private in Captain William Jones Company, fifth Regiment, Virginia Militia, at Norfolk. He was granted land by the government in Franklin County Tennessee for his services.

Tabitha's father, Daniel Boone Guerrant, served his country in defending Texas when the western frontier was invaded by the Mexicans under General Vasquez in the early spring of 1842. He went from Montgomery Co. with H. M. Watkins Company and assisted in repelling the invaders. From October, 1842, to December 1842, he served in Captain Levi Manning's Company. During the war between the states, he and a twelve year old son, Charles Richard, drove an Ox-wagon with supplies for the army from San Antonio, Texas to Shreveport, Louisiana.

March 19, 1866, Tabitha Ann was born to Daniel Boone and Eady Elmiere Guerrant. She enjoyed a happy childhood receiving her education from her older brothers and sisters and from the little one teacher school provided for the community. She married George David Davis, son of an old pioneer family, in the home of her father on January 27, 1884. She was married by her oldest brother, Charles Richard Guerrant. Her home was near that of her parents in the McAdams community. She was a loyal member of the Mt.

Zion church where her brother was pastor for nine years.

In 1892, Tabitha Ann and her family moved to Bedias, Texas. Her brother, Rev. Charles Richard Guerrant, had moved his family there also, so it was again wonderful to be in her Brother's church at Bedias. Tabitha Ann enjoyed her religious life where she made most of her friends. This family spent the rest of their life in Bedias, Grimes County. When death came to Tabitha Ann several years ago, she was buried in the McAdams Cemetery. Most of her descendants are in Bedias and Grimes County.

LILLAH SPENCER GUERRANT BROOKS

1874-1940

By Opal McAdams Samuel

Charter member President Houston Chapter, Huntsville

Lillah Spencer Guerrant Brooks, a Real Daughter and charter member of the President Houston Chapter, Huntsville, Texas, died April 18, 1940. She is survived by her husband, R. M. Brooks, and eight children, Darrell, Robert Orin, Daniel Boone, Spencer Mann, William Richard, Jewel Victoria, Mary Edith, and Lois Marie, and six grand children.

Lillah was very active in her Daughters of the Republic of Texas work. She was helpful in securing valued information at the time our chapter was organized. During the Centennial year, 1956, she was called upon many times to sit on the speaker's platform for dedication programs and other special occasions. Sometimes it meant sitting for several hours in the hot sun but she declared she thoroughly enjoyed it and was not tired at all when the rest of us were exhausted. We were particularly proud of Lillah because she was always willing to drive in from their home in Grimes County to our meetings and at all times made a picture of a sweet lovely lady. We never thought of her as being old and were always inspired by her presence.

Peter Guerrant, great grandfather of Lillah, served his country during the Revolutionary War by furnishing supplies for the armies as shown on the records for Buckingham County the eighth day of April 1782; State Liberty, Richmond, Virginia.

Charles Guerrant, grandfather of Lillah, served in the War of 1812 as a private in Captain William Jones Company, fifth Regiment, Virginia Militia, at Norfolk. He was granted land by the government in Franklin County, Tennessee for his services.

Lillah's father, Daniel Boone Guerrant, served his country in defending Texas when the western frontier was invaded by the Mexicans under General Vasquez in the early spring of 1842. He went from Montgomery County with H. M. Watkins Company and assisted in repelling the invaders. From October, 1842, to December 1842, he served in Captain Levi Manning's Company. During the war between the states he and twelve year old son, Charles Richard, drove an ox wagon with supplies for the army from Shreveport, Louisiana, to San Antonio, Texas.

Daniel Boone, son of Charles and Polly Guerrant, and Eady Elmira, daughter of Sarah and Richard Bankhead, were married March 9, 1848. Daniel and Eady became the parents of twelve children, the youngest of whom was Lillah Spencer, born March 2, 1874. Being the baby in such a large family Lillah received much of her education from the tutelage of her older brothers and sisters. Schools were on room buildings and had one teacher for forty or fifty students. The curriculum consisted primarily of the three R's. However the students learned their lessons well, so well, in fact, that the Friday afternoon spelling bees, dialogues, and recitations became games to be played with fervor. Lillah was often the last to "spell down" in the spelling bees and she also won many honors in recitations.

As Lillah blossomed into young womanhood, her beauty, her gracious disposition, and her fine character were known throughout the entire county. She united with the Baptist Church in the summer of 1890. Her eldest brother, Charles Richard, was the pastor of that country church for many years and it was there that the Guerrant family had their membership and their many friends.

Lillah was married to Robert Mann Brooks December 24, 1890. The first year of their married life was spent in the home of the young husband's parents, while logs were cut and hauled to mill, lumber was sawed and home erected. Their first years saw them convert a virgin forest into tillable land. Much of the timber was cut and made into lumber to add to the house as room was needed for a growing family.

After marriage, Lillah became a member of the Methodist Church--the church in which her husband had been reared. She was active as a teacher in Sunday school and was an ardent member of the church her marriage gave her.

Huguenot loyalty, integrity, industry, and devotion to duty, together with the sturdy tenacity of English pioneers, blended in the progeny of the Guerrant-Bankhead union made the life of Lillah Guerrant a life of service and of beauty. Her Huguenot ancestry gave to her a God to serve and to make real. She radiated love wherever she went, ministering to the sick and to the needy. She was buried in the Red-Top Cemetery near Shiro in Grimes County. Her descendants are in Grimes and Walker Counties and Texas.

WILLIE EDNA YOUNG MCADAMS

1878-1941

by Evelyn M. Carrington
President Houston Chapter, Huntsville

On the afternoon of February 18, 1941, in Houston, Texas, death came to Mrs. James Washington McAdams, a charter member of the President Houston Chapter, Daughters of the Republic of Texas. Mrs. McAdams is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters. Both of the daughters Mrs. Robert Samuel and Mrs. Everett McKay, like their mother, were charter members of the President Houston Chapter.

Willie Edna Young was born in Walker County on September 20, 1878, a member of a prominent Texas pioneer family and an old Georgia family: the Guerrants and the Youngs. Her grandfather, Daniel Boone Guerrant, came to Texas in 1837 and settled in what is now Walker County on a head-right. When the Western Frontier of Texas was invaded by the Mexicans under General Vasquez in the spring of 1842, Daniel Boone Guerrant went from Montgomery County with Captain H. M. Watkins' Company and assisted in repelling the invaders. From October, 1842, to December, 1842, he served in Captain Levi Lanning's Company. During the War Between the States he and twelve year year old son drove an ox wagon with supplies for the army from Shreveport, Louisiana, To San Antonio, Texas.

Willie Edna Young united with the Baptist Church when she was fourteen years old. When she was twenty she married James Washington McAdams and went to live on what is now known as the McAdams' Farm. In 1912 Mr. and Mrs. McAdams moved to Huntsville to give their children educational opportunities. When their children had finished school, the McAdams returned to the farm, which they loved. As the years glided by the farm home became a favorite rendezvous for the McAdams children and their children.

Mrs. McAdams was a consistent worker in the Baptist Church, a capable nurse when illness entered the homes of her neighbors and a leader in the community in which she lived. She was greatly interested in historic records and had a hobby for making scrap books for outstanding events. She leaves behind her many sorrowing relatives and friends including many colored people who depended on "Miss Willie" in times of trouble.

Daniel Boone Guerrant was a descendant of immigrant Daniel Guerin, French Huguenot of France. England gave the persecuted French Huguenots land to settle on in America, up the James River twenty-five miles above the town of Richmond, Virginia. Our ancestors came over in 1699 with other French Huguenots. They settled in a little deserted Indian village called Manninrintown. They were happy there and the French were slow to intermarry with other nationalities. Charles (the fourth generation after they arrived) married Polly Spencer in 1806. The parents of both had participated in the War of The American Revolution and received grants of land in Kentucky and Tennessee. These grants or part of them were given to Charles and Polly. They moved to Kentucky first, Daniel was born there June 23, 1821, so you see they lived quite a few years in Virginia before going to Kentucky in March of 1806. Other children were born in Virginia. They soon went to Tennessee which was more thickly settled. The family lived near Winchester, Franklyn County, Tennessee. In 1837 Daniel decided to come to Texas (he was only 16 years of age) with his older sister Henreatta Guerrant, wife of Allen Baldwin who had a half brother, Hezekiah Farris, living in Montgomery County, Texas. Most of the land that Sarah Noble Bankhead settled on was the original plot. It was eleven years before Daniel Guerin or Guerrant and Eady Elmyra Bankhead married on March 9, 1848. She was only five years old when he first came to Texas. Polly Spencer, wife of Charles Guerrant, mother of Daniel Boone was born 1786, Charlotte County, Virginia, daughter of Moses Spencer and Judith Ayres of Virginia. Moses Spencer and Peter Guerrant both had Revolutionary War service records. Polly Spencer Guerrant died in Walker County while she and Daniel were visiting her son D. B. Guerrant.
